After view

Many times over the years the spring has arrived in connection with our auction in the last half of March, but unfortunately not this time. Although the spring equinox fell on the second auction day it was really cold and windy, as often in our local area.

Luckily we got warm, in a double sense, in the auction room. We are not thinking about the indoor climate, but of course of the intense bidding between online, book and floor bidders. We are very happy to have had visitors physically on location during all four auction days. Naturally not quite like in the good old days before the pandemic, but enough to get a feeling of “The personal auction room” chatting with our participating clients in the breaks as well as sometimes during the ongoing auction.

The stamp market is still going strong and will survive for a long time to come, which many of the hammer prices really confirmed. If you are interested to get up to date with the current market, we strongly recommend you to study the prices in this list of prices realized. All the Scandinavian countries are “hot” at the moment.

In about two months we are participating in the NORDIA 2024 exhibition in Langesund in Norway, 31 May – 2 June. We will be more than happy to meet you there, to discuss a potential consignment, or just for a friendly chat! Why not bring your family, the landscape is fantastic.

We welcome you to take part in our autumn auction 24-27 September, as consignor as well as/or buyer. Among other interesting things we will present “The Beautiful Collection” part 2.

That’s all folks, thank you and take care!
